Rising federal spending and huge deficits are pushing the nation toward a financial and economic crisis. Policymakers should find and eliminate wasteful spending and unnecessary programs in the federal budget. One way to save money would be to cut subsidies to businesses. Corporate welfare in the federal budget costs taxpayers almost $100 billion a year and does not aid economic growth. It is also an affront to America's constitutional principals of limited government and equality under the law. This study provides a menu of about $100 billion in programs to terminate.
